Security Central is a SaaS based offering that provides machine learning based security planning, threat detection, and compliance auditing. The Security Central portal at flow.nutanix.com provides an inventory and configuration audit of your cloud and on-premises infrastructure to scan for common and high-risk configuration. Powered by this inventory and coupled with compliance tracking tools, security auditing is also provided. Finally network flow data ingested from on-premises AHV clusters provides near real-time threat detection based on machine learning analysis of traffic patterns.
