With the birth of ChatGPT in 2022, Generative AI has taken the world by storm. Many industries are exploring how they can use Generative AI to drive business goals and gain efficiencies. This is known as Enterprise AI.

Desired outcomes from Enterprise AI include productivity gains, revenue growth, and value creation. The potential to drive these outcomes is inspiring organizations everywhere to implement Enterprise AI in their own organizations.

Successful Enterprise AI requires answers to key questions:

1. Which AI models should we use/are we using?
2. Which parts of our business are adopting Generative AI?
3. How do we scale our infrastructure and operations to meet GenAI demand?

Let's take a closer look at Enterprise AI and how organizations can find answers to these key questions.
